

PROTECT PATRONS AND EMPLOYERS

Agent Scott Urges Support Of Northwestern's Safety Movement

C. W. Scott, agent for the Chicago & Northwestern railway company in this city, calls attention to local patrons of the road to the Northwestern's Safety First movement which was started about two years ago. The movement has for its object the conservation of the lives and limbs of the employees and patrons of the road, the making of safety men as well as safety things the elimination of the chance taken who is the maker of cripples, widows and orphans and greater safety and regularity in operation by interesting the men who are operating trains, working at the stations, in the shops, on the tracks and bridges in an effort to get rid of the careless habit which has been growing during the last twenty years or more, and the old habit of taking chances which is the cause of a large proportion of the accidents, and to acquire the safety habit.

Many Rhinelander people are in the habit of daily trespassing on railroad tracks and bridges, a very dangerous practice which the Safety First movement positively discourages.

Mr. Scott submits to the New North the following figures which show the appalling list of deaths and injuries among trespassers on American railways during the last twenty years:

86,733 trespassers were killed and 94,646 trespassers were injured, making a total of 181,379 killed and injured. 129,103 were citizens of the localities in which the accidents occurred and were mostly wage earners.

Acting in behalf of the Safety First movement Mr. Scott warns the public against walking on railroad tracks or bridges; loitering about railroad stations or cars; flipping on and off cars or engines; crawling under off cars or engines; crawling under crossing gates when they are down.

TAKES CASH AND JEWELRY

Burglar Enters Home Of L. Lago Friday Morning

Forty-three dollars in cash and several pieces of valuable jewelry composed the swag of a burglar who entered the home of L. Lago at 809 Margaret street early Friday morning.

The thief gained access to the house through a rear door which had carelessly been left unlocked. Entering the bed room where Mr. Lago was sleeping the intruder removed the money, forty three dollars, from the pocket of Mr. Lago's trousers which were on a chair near the bed. The room was then ransacked resulting in the stealing of the jewelry.

That the robbery was committed by some one familiar with the premises there is no question in the minds of the police.

MEET IN NOVEMBER

State Potato Growers Will Hold Annual Convention Here

The 1913 convention and exhibit of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, will be held in Rhinelander in November.

Thirty million bushels of potatoes are raised annually in Wisconsin, according to a statement issued by the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association. This stock is now handled largely through warehouses in Central and Northern Wisconsin. Potato extension meetings are being held at important shipping points under the direction of the horticultural department of the university.

Potato extension work is planned in Barron, Washburn, Bayfield, Ashland, Rusk, Forest, Lincoln, Marinette and Oneida counties.

RAINS PUT STOP TO FOREST FIRES

Flames Cause Heavy Damage Along Soo and North- western Lines

Rains Saturday and Sunday put a check to the forest fires which raged east of Rhinelander along the Soo line and in Iron and Ashland counties on the Northwestern road.

The towns of Armstrong Creek and Goodman were endangered and had it not been for the rain there would have been a tremendous destruction of property and perhaps loss of human lives. Settlers living in that vicinity were forced to exert their best efforts in order to save their dwellings from ruin. It is reported that two or three farmers lost their homes but the story cannot be confirmed here.

The lumber companies had a small army of men in the woods fighting the fires but to keep the flames confined to certain limits was impossible.

At Odanah on the Northwestern line the fires were the most serious in River reservation was severe. A squad of fire fighters in charge of the Indian farmer battled with the blaze on both sides of the Northwestern track for two days. Passengers on trains going through the fire district found the dense smoke anything but agreeable.

The family of John Harto, north of Odanah, was driven from home after the barn and hay sheds were burned and the residence destroyed.

Several farms on the reservation were threatened. The smoke on the lakes hindered navigation.

DOES A LITTLE BOOSTING

Henry Price, proprietor of the Brunswick restaurant, is a booster for Rhinelander. He was in Eagle River not long ago and here is what the Vilas County News said about him:

"Henry Price was over from Rhinelander last week. He returned Friday with a can of anglerworms. He said that no worms grew in the vicinity of that city but not to tell Griffin or he would concede that the soil around Rhinelander was true forest soil. Henry believes in the future of the Oneida county seat as the coming business center and fishing district and says they have more business houses to the block than Eagle River or Three Lakes and as to fishing they can catch more perch and suckers there than on the Eagle chain."

SOME EGG THIS

When it comes to laying large eggs, Jerome C. Teal has a hen that has it on all the other Biddies in the neighborhood and perhaps the entire county. This particular fowl which is of the Black Spanish cross with Rhode Island Red variety partied company with an egg Thursday which was a record breaker. It measured 7 7/8 inches around the long way, 6 inches around the center and weighed over 8½ ounces.

Mr. Teal has the gigantic egg on exhibition at his home on King street.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

Important Doings Of The Week Among The Students

Practice for the class play which started on Monday of last week has been steady this week. The first act was gotten fairly well in hand last week, and the second act is being added to it this week. The play is called "A Crazy Idea." It is a four act comedy of great interest. Miss Kenmstead is in charge of the practice.

The Senior class met in session last Tuesday and organized into a regular class society. Raymond Plunkett was elected president; Hazel Scott, vice president; Paul Joslin, secretary; and Blanche Zutz, treasurer. These officers constitute an executive committee to see that all other committees do their work. Music, arrangements and general committees have also been appointed.

The Seniors still lead in the inter-class league with a percentage of 50%. The others follow in this order: the Sophomores and Freshmen each with 50%, and the Juniors 20%. The Juniors are looking for the money for that banquet.

Prof. Colburn will be one of the judges of a contest at Minocqua on Friday.

An inter-class field meet is being arranged for on some Saturday in the near future.

Elwood E. Smith.

D. A. KAHN CHAIRMAN

D. A. Kahn has been appointed by the Woodruff town board to the office of chairman. He fills the vacancy caused by the death of Ole Stevenson. Mr. Kahn has filled the office before for several years in a satisfactory manner and his appointment was a wise one. His many friends throughout the county are pleased to learn that he is again a member of the Oneida county board.

NEW BANK PRESIDENT

At the regular meeting of the directors of the First National Bank Wednesday night John Moen was elected president of the institution to succeed the late Charles Chafee.

SCALDED TO DEATH

Tragic Fate Of Alfred McBain, North- Western Fireman Friday

Alfred McBain, a Northwestern road fireman, was scalped to death by escaping steam Friday when his engine tipped over pinning him under its weight. The accident occurred six miles north of Watersmeet on the Chautauqua branch.

The dead man was twenty-eight years of age and leaves a wife and two children. His home was in Keweenaw. He was popular among his fellow employees and his shocking death is regretted by his friends all along the Ashland division.

The remains were taken to Ironwood, Mr. McBain's former home, where interment took place Wednesday afternoon.

CITY WILL NOT HAVE BALL TEAM

Blaze Partly Destroys Plant— Loss In Neighborhood Of $4,000

Fire early Sunday morning partly destroyed the plant of the Oneida Handle company in the south end of the city. Only efficient work by the city fire department saved the factory from total destruction.

The blaze originated in the basement of the plant and was first discovered at about 1:45 o'clock by one of the members of the Bruns family who occupy a residence near by. The alarm was turned in over the telephone and the two hose companies responded. It appeared for a time as though the factory was doomed but the firemen soon had the flames under control. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Although no estimate has been made of the loss it is believed that it is in the neighborhood of $4,000.

R. G. Lowell head of the company was unable to state today whether or not the plant will be rebuilt.

FORTY HOURS DEVOTION

Forty hours devotion services are being held this week at St. Mary's church. The following priests were assisting Rev. Dr. Lienfelder and Father R. J. Fossbinder in conducting services and hearing confessions: Father J. M. Owens, Minocqua; Father G. F. Schmidt, Rice Lake; Father John Van Helden, Tomahawk; Father Salle, Antigo; Father Toplak, Eagle River; Father John Klopp, Hurley; Father W. A. Beaudette, Washburn; Father Gleisner, city.

SERIOUSLY INJURES EYE

Philip Rogers sustained a serious injury to his right eye Friday while examining an air gun belonging to his little son. The gun refused to operate and while Mr. Rogers was attempting to remedy the trouble the weapon suddenly discharged, the shot striking him in the eye.

Mr. Rogers is now in a Milwaukee hospital receiving treatment for the injury. It is feared that he may lose the sight of the eye.

DOG CATCHER BUSY

Aug. Peters, the newly appointed dog catcher, has been active this week gathering in canines that have no license tags. The animals are confined in the pound for three days at the expiration of which time they are executed providing their owners do not appear and bail them out. If you value your dog buy him a tag—or Peters will surely get him.

OUTLET SALE

Commencing Friday, May 9th the Jacobson Dry Goods Co. will conduct the greatest and most legitimate sale you ever heard of.

Let us explain to you what a Mill Outlet Sale means. Each year at this time the manufacturers in order to prepare for their fall and winter output which is already contracted for, find themselves with a lot of surplus spring and summer merchandise on hand which they are gladly willing to sacrifice in order that their Mills and Shops be cleared away and ready for their fall and winter display. We have been informed by a few manufacturers that if we were ready with the cash they would talk business to us. Well we took the hint and we let a few thousand dollars go, to see what we could really accomplish by offering the people as big bargains at retail as we got at wholesale. It is needless for us to say to you that the values we are able to offer to you during this sale are absolutely beyond your power of imagination. We may emphatically state that each and every customer that will enter our store during this sale of ours, will be amazed with astonishment at the great bargains we have. New Idea in Education. The moving picture has been introduced as a permanent feature of the German schools. Films for courses of bacteriology, anatomy and biology are already available in that country.

GOODMAN

The Junior Prom which was held here Friday evening May 2, was a great success. The music was from Wausau High school orchestra. Ice cream and cake was served.

The Goodman Lumber Co. had to shut down their mill and fight fire. The fire was set out in the slasings and it got away from the men and burned about 4,000 cords of cord wood which was piled, ready for the chemical.

N. Hansen left here Monday on business.

The Misses Edna Shatto and Alberta Rapley delightfully entertained the members of the Sylvite Club at the home of the latter on Mill St. Tuesday evening. All of the members were in attendance and as customary the evening was spent in playing rook. First prize was captured by Miss Louise Desseran while the consolation prize fell to Miss Ella Viens. A delicious lunch was served. At each guest's place was a favor in the form of a hand-painted basket filled with salted nuts, made to resemble a morning glory.

Available Womanhood.

"The American nation will have lost considerably by having utilized in the production a mere material wealth the best years of a great part of its available womanhood, when the nation itself is so much in need of sons and daughters born under the flag and reared in the traditions of all that has made the United States progressive, powerful and enduring."—Sir Thomas Oliver.

Softening Light for Invalids.

When any one is ill electric light in the room, if very strong, will tend to hurt the eyes and probably induce headache and cause a rise of temperature. A little bag made of green silk, large enough to slip easily right over the light, shade and all, can be fitted on and will look dainty and pretty. Run a drawstring in so as to tie it on quickly, otherwise the patient will object to the fuss.

Good Idea.

Organist (discussing the music for a special service)—And after that chant I'll put in something lighter, something to relieve the heavy classic style of the Te Deum." Bilkins (on the committee)—"Ah, anything to relieve the tedium will be appreciated." Tatler.

WHY THEY SHOULDN'T MARRY

The woman who expects to have a good, easy time.

The woman who buys for the mere pleasure of buying.

The woman who thinks that cook and nurse can keep house.

The woman who would rather die than wear a last season's hat.

The woman who expects a declaration of love three times a day.

The woman who marries in order to get someone to pay her bills.

The woman who thinks she can get $5,000 worth of style out of $1,000 income.

The woman who reads novels and dreams of being a duchess or a countess.

The woman who does not know how many pennies, nickels and dimes go to make a dollar.

The woman who proudly declares that she can not even hem a pocket handkerchief and never made up her bed in her life.

The woman who cares more for the style of her spring suit than she cares for the health and comfort of her children.

The woman who does not eat breakfast with her husband, but has it brought up to her room.—Exchange.

IRRELEVANCIES

Romance is the realism of youth, realism the romance of age.

If the world seems dark, let us light it with friendship and charity.

To read a book simply to have read it is to miss the product's finest flavor.

The future is about the only subject the shallow individual ever takes the trouble to look into.

It must be a great trial to a handsome woman to have a husband who doesn't become her at all.

"Art for art's sake" is the saying. "Art for talk's sake" is how it generally works out in practice.

A young man is always certain of one friend and one enemy; the first is his mother; the second is himself.

If there were no illusions in the world human happiness would demand that some be immediately eradicated.

A great many people seem to imagine that culture consists in acquiring a hatred for some particular perfectly good word and in manifesting their disgust whenever they see or hear it.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

LINES ABOUT LOVERS.

"Variety is the spice of love."

"The oftener a man falls in love, the more easily and gracefully he does it; exercise seems to keep the heart in good working condition."

"As lovers, men are inclined to be general practitioners rather than specialists."—Reflections of a Bachelor Girl, by Helen Rowland.

TEN LIES

Here are ten lies which are often heard, according to the amiable Arthur Aull of Lamar:

My wife and I have never exchanged a cross word.

Yes, we're out, but we've just ordered a lot of it.

I never would care to be rich, just comfortably fixed.

I'd just like to have been in his place. I'd have showed them.

If I'd catch a kid of mine at anything like that I'd bluster him.

If you don't think it's a good thing for you I don't want you to do it.

If I had that woman for a little while I'd teach her a few things.

If I had just a little money I knew where I could go out and make a pile.

I don't care anything for the money. It was the principle of the thing.

I've never seen such weather before.—Kansas City Star.

FROM THE PENCIL'S POINT.

Our idea of a freak is a man who can out-talk his wife.

Nothing gets some men in bad like their good judgment.

A shiftless man is one who eats tomorrow's dinner today.

Every great actress has her meager—but the title is a misnomer.

If it's right why change it? A multiplicity of models is evidence that the maker is still experimenting. There is but one Ford model. And for five years our rapidly growing factories haven't been able to make all we could sell—because it is right.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop?"

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly rundown condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done the more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cold liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Sars Salve. We guarantee it.

"THE PRICE," MAY 10.

Clarence Bennett and company will present Anna Marshall at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, May 10.

"The Price" is frank in its appeal to the emotions, and it is in this frankness that much of the strength of the play lies. No theme more certain to arouse our deepest emotions could have been chosen by George Broadhurst, the author of "The Price," than the one with which he causes his principal character, Ethel Toscani, to struggle until she has to stand before her husband a confessed sinner against the most important of the moral precepts of the world.

The play begins with a straight relation of facts. It develops the birth and upbringing of Ethel Toscani to the time when she becomes the secretary of the artist, whom she irresistibly attracts. The fatal step is taken. Then comes the sudden death of the artist and her marriage to the doctor, followed by her ever-present haunting fear that her secret may be discovered and his great love lost.

The emotions of the audience, so it is said, are played upon at will by this brilliant young actress during the evolution of the plot. Particularly in the climax of the third act, does Miss Marshall reveal her high art, which has brought her to the very front rank of emotional actresses of the present day.

SOME SPLENDID SHOWS

The vaudeville at the Majestic theater during the last week has been very good and appeals to the crowds which pack the house nightly. The first three nights of this week the Melrose Sisters put on a clever little singing and dancing act which was pleasing.

The same high class motion pictures for which the Majestic is noted are being presented. These include all the latest subjects of such well known companies as the American, Bison, Kay-Bee, Thanhouser, Majestic, Solax and others.

Get the habit of going to the Majestic and you'll be loresome if you stay away.

GET CHANGE OF VENUE

Dickinson County, Mich., To Be Scene Of Hammels Trial

A Marquette dispatch states that the trials of David A. Hammel, Walter F. Hammel and Roy Hammel will take place on July 7 in Dickinson county, Mich. They are charged with wrecking the Gladstone bank. Judge Flanagan made the announcement Thursday when he called the attorneys in the case before him and informed them that he had granted the change of venue asked for.

In arriving at this decision the court stated that he was not influenced greatly by newspaper articles published at the time the bank failed but the fact that so many people in Delta county had lost money that it made the number directly or indirectly involved very large. The case was set for trial on the first day of the July term at Iron Mountain, Mich. The state has obtained attorneys to assist in the prosecution and the Hammels will be represented by able counsel. One of the biggest legal battles ever waged in the upper peninsula is anticipated.

BUYS STEVENS POINT STORE

Jules Iverson has sold his jewelry business to Ferdinand Hirzy. The deal has just been closed and the transfer of the business will take place on or before June 1, probably about the middle of May. Mr. Hirzy has also rented the store for a period of five years, with the privilege of ten years. Mr. Hirzy has had a large experience in the jewelry business and for several years carried on a store at Rhinelander. He has recently returned from a trip to Europe and at present is stopping with a brother who is engaged in the jewelry business at Grand Rapids.

GOING TO MANITOWOC

Prospects are that a large delegation will represent Rhinelander Aerie 259 F. O. E. at the convention of the order in Manitowoc, June 24, 25 and 26. Many members have expressed their intentions of attending and it is possible that a special car may be engaged for their transportation.

Plans are to make the 1913 state convention of the Eagles the biggest and best of them all. Manitowoc Aerie and the people of that progressive city have made elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors expected.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has been invited to attend.

In the city council of LaCrosse last week, the health officer was given united support for clean creameries. A committee will probe the milk problem there. We are glad to see this step taken and have faith the city of Rhinelander will soon make the same move. We have proof it is needed here.

The dignified humane yet quietly determined administration of President Wilson, is gaining for him the respect of the whole world. It now greatly contrasts with the fireworks of Roosevelt's presidency and the lack of definiteness and real backbone of President Taft's administration. So far, Wilson seems president.

We again saw the unprincipled treacherous work of the assistant editor in the editorials of the News last week. He better spend his time making out his income tax report. Last year he was too busy collecting dirty dollars to heed the warnings of the law. That kind of business won't pass a second time.

All that looks like butter is not butter. It may be an over supply of water.

A man who will falsify in one case will do it in every case. We have proved the absolute falseness of the News in one instance by oath; we could do it in others but we do not consider it necessary—the people know too well the misrepresentations of that sheet in the past and its attempts to hold up and shield big business at the expense of the common people.

City Superintendent W. P. Colburn has made a splendid record the past year and is deserving of the unanimous re-election he received at the increase in salary Monday night. He Whichever it comes to the pinch now gets $2000 whereas he received $200 last year. Mr. Colburn puts his whole heart into his work and tion and monopoly are very pleasant to live with as long as they have their way. But just wait even a little bit son or their chance at wealth coming and you have a fight on your hands. The she wolf fighting for her cuts is a feeble comparison to the way in which the rich will fight to retain their grasp on the advantages by which they force the people to pay tribute to them, so that their riches shall go on undiminished. The people of this country should wake up to the kind of fight that confronts them and understand that they must be as relentless and determined as the monopolists if they expect to become free. Exchange.

This exemplifies the fight now going on in Rhinelander.

WALL ST. AGENT IN TREASURY

The new Secretary of the treasury, Mr. McAdoo, discovered last week that a representative of the National City Bank of New York has for eight or ten years had desk room in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, at the Treasury Department in Washington.

This private employee in a public office was able to give his bank inside information of what was going on in the Treasury Department.

Mr. McAdoo ordered the bank employee ousted, declaring the whole arrangement to be "irregular and improper."

That such an arrangement existed at all, seems to show that intimate relations have existed for years between the treasury department and Wall street.

THEIR GREEDY POLICY

The administration water power bill, now before the legislature at Madison, will, if adopted, effectually prevent any water power development in the state for years. No sane man would invest his money under so many restrictions. — Rhinelander News.

We are not surprised at the above sentiment when the source is considered. We would not expect men to stand for a just distribution of the natural resources among the people when they have plundered the forests and now wish an opportunity to get the profits of the greatest natural resource Wisconsin has left in store for future generations.

OPPOSE SUNDAY CLOSING

The most voluminous petition ever received by the postoffice department at Washington was submitted Tuesday protesting against Sunday closing of postoffices in the "transient population of the United States." The petition was so bulky that it could not be forwarded through the mails and was sent by express. It was nearly bound and weighed 21½ pounds. Signatures of tens of thousands of people in all walks of life, including those of the governors of Michigan, Minnesota, and Iowa, were affixed—Stevens Point Journal.

FIGURES DON'T LIE

The Wisconsin state tax commission last Thursday sent to the legislature a report showing the revenue derived from the collection of income taxes and a statement of the expenditures in the administration of the income tax law during the years of 1911 and 1912.

Income tax to the amount of $3,472,880.65 was assessed for 1912. Of this amount $1,432,761 is estimated to have been offset by personal tax receipts, $111,622.94 to remain due and collectable on delinquents, and $1,628,317.71 has been actually paid into the treasury, local, county and state.

Of the $1,628,317.71, 70 per cent of $1,132,822.16 has been retained by the local districts, 20 per cent, or $250,070 by the several counties, and 10 per cent or $162,821.53 has been paid, or is due the state treasury.

The expense of the income tax and the work of supervising the administration of the property tax through assessors, or of incomes for the two years, has amounted to $14,823.29. Of this amount $8,546.88, has been incurred directly by the state office; $14,299.56 has been expended for printing, postage and supplies. The direct expense of $60,432.05 has been incurred on account of the local offices of assessors of incomes—Exchange.

Rhinelander collected $1545.79, of which the city received $1292.06 net, the county $362.16 net, and the state received $181.58. The News ridiculed a state income tax, said the entire county would not collect tax to exceed $600 and it would cost this amount to pay the income tax collector. They said we were falsifying if we said differently. Now, Mr. Payne please acknowledge your statement of fact and beg our pardon. You also said it would use about all the money collected to pay expenses of collecting, please correct this misrepresentation too.

MONEY'S NASTY SIDE

If the people want this salvation from the exactions of monopoly which the new tariff bill will give them they must become as active as the Special Interests are. They cannot send lobbyists to Washington to work for them, but they can bombard their representatives with demands so that the promise be kept and that no sacrifice be made to privilege and predatory wealth. One thing, above all, they should keep clearly in view, increase in salary. Whichever it comes to the pinch now gets $2000 whereas he received $200 last year. Mr. Colburn puts his whole heart into his work and tion and monopoly are very pleasant to live with as long as they have their way. But just wait even a little bit son or their chance at wealth coming and you have a fight on your hands. The she wolf fighting for her cuts is a feeble comparison to the way in which the rich will fight to retain their grasp on the advantages by which they force the people to pay tribute to them, so that their riches shall go on undiminished. The people of this country should wake up to the kind of fight that confronts them and understand that they must be as relentless and determined as the monopolists if they expect to become free. Exchange.

This exemplifies the fight now going on in Rhinelander.

BOYS AND TOBACCO

A new law was added to the Wisconsin statutes last week which prohibits by fine the giving away or selling of anything in the line of tobacco to a boy under the age of 16. The new law reads as follows:

"Every person who shall sell or give to any person under the age of 16 years a cigar, or tobacco of any form, without the written consent of parent or guardian of such minor shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for each offense, and every person under the age of 16 years who shall smoke or use cigarettes, cigars or tobacco, on any public road, street, alley or park or other lands used for public purposes or in any public place of business or amusement, except when in the company of a parent or guardian, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 or by imprisonment for not exceeding 30 days."

PRESS IS MIGHTY

"Give me a newspaper, a circulation manager, plenty of stenographic service and an issue, and I can carry any precinct or state in the union," said Joseph E. Davies, western manager of President Wilson's campaign at the banquet closing of the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity at Madison. Mr. Davies spoke on, "The Press in Electing a President. Where the newspapers were with us in the last campaign, we won, and where the journals were against us we lost," said Mr. Davies. Bryan did not have the press of the country behind him and he lost; Cleveland had the press behind him and he won; and when McCool was placed in charge of the Wilson campaign the president-elect secured one of the cleverest publicity agents I ever met.

"Some who attended the Baltimore convention believe it was Bryan's organization that finally nominated Wilson; some believe it was the personal quality and character of Mr. Wilson himself, but behind all of this lay the fact that for months before the Baltimore convention every newspaper was printing the story of Wilson. People may elect and nominate, but the newspapers of today tell the people whom and how they shall nominate and elect."

FLOOD CONTROL

Enthusiasts are desirable in any civilization, but they sometimes need to be tamed. For several years every time there has been a great flood, these people have come forward and directed public attention to planting as a remedy for flood damage.

Now, the fact is that at best the acreage devoted to trees can be but a fraction of the total drainage area and on this fraction only a small portion of the water can be held back by trees. It is necessary only to pick up any old history to learn that there were disastrous floods long before the ax found the American forests. The immense areas of alluvial soil along the great river courses bear mute evidence of this fact.

On the other hand, the area used for farms is many times the possible tree acreage and the ratio will be greater, for while there are substitutes for timber there are none for food, and human appetites are getting more numerous all the time.

The science of agriculture has shown that by proper (and profitable) treatment the soils of our farms may be made to absorb and retain more than double the percentage of moisture that they do at this time. In the various states the amount of land in fields is from twenty to fifty times that which can be added to the present tree acreage. Where, then, is the essential problem of flood control?

Would it not be well to get the eye or the central point in this matter—and keep it there?

It will be of interest to those who have not given serious thought to this subject, that this soil treatment—the mere plowing and of closer or other cropland manner, which can be pastured before plowing—will materially increase both the quantity and quality of crops, as well as do more than any other human agency in the control of floods.

DENOUNCE WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

Washington—"It is a great piece of humor, that sex appeal in the suffragist parade in New York last Saturday. It becomes grim humor when we remember that these same suffragists are the people who claim their influence and voice in America put down the social evil and white can politics will uplift humanity and slave traffic."

This statement by Mrs. A. J. George, Boston, anti-suffragist, was given out at the Washington headquarters of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"In the suffragist parade there were to be seen those things which are commonly and rightfully decried by all men and women who wish to see society improved:

"The sheath gown, the split skirt, the low-necked gown in the broad light of day and the general bizarre effect which could be calculated to make to men a distinctly woman's appeal.

"It all goes to show that sex is at the bottom of the suffrage disturbance, as it is at the bottom of other misguided movements and fancies to which the uneasy and dissatisfied women of the present day devote themselves.

"When women, banded together for any political purpose, use the sex appeal as blatantly as it was done on Fifthave Saturday, they make the confession that they rely on their sex rather than on their arguments and rights to further their cause. Moreover they also do much of that harm which they say they deplore."

HE IS NOT TO BLAME

The New North has been severely criticised in the past for making light of the little editor of the News and we are inclined to think it is just criticism. He knows, we know and everybody else knows that he has to do his masters' bidding. He has always worked for the favored rich and knows nothing else but to do and say what he believes would please them. When he accuses other people of selling to the city and county illegally he has probably never looked up the records of his masters which it might be advisable to bring to light, citing individual cases. He must have knowledge of the fact that high officials of the News who hold city offices are ordering public printing of their own organ.

He also must know that when poor little town officials were indicted for petty offences that his masters were committing the same crimes only on a much larger scale. We do not deem it necessary to go into the details of this matter at this time but we have the evidence at hand to prove our statements.

THE FORESTRY SITUATION

Enough money will be appropriated to take care of forestry land the state now holds, but nothing further will be done. The Whiteside-Stevens bill to defer land purchases until 1915, which passed the assembly, appears to have the right of way in the senate. A companion to this measure was adopted in the assembly Monday. It was a resolution introduced by Assemblyman Anderson of this district instructing the soil survey to be confined to the forest district.

The only new work that will be undertaken will be the establishment of colonies for outdoor tuberculosis patients. This work will likely be authorized.

The forestry board will receive some income through the sale of state lands. The revenues from this source may be used in the work for the department. The income is variable, the maximum being about $90,000.

It has been demonstrated what may be done by Oneida county.

We still wish to see Anderson's former amendment passed in a resolution to investigate Griffith's work as chief forester and decide upon its merit.

HULL ACT A LAW

The Hull act, prohibiting discrimination in selling and buying of commodities in Wisconsin, becomes a law by official publication. It is aimed at big dairy and produce companies, big oil companies, and other interests which it is alleged have succeeded in controlling, if not destroying, competition in their lines of business in the state.

Law Has Heavy Penalty

The act prohibits any person, firm or corporation engaged in the production and distribution of any commodity from intentionally preventing or delaying competition by selling or buying such commodity at a lower rate in one community than in another after making due allowance for difference in quality and cost of transportation. The penalty is a fine of from $200 to $5000 or imprisonment not exceeding one year if the offender party is a corporation it will lose its charter and be forever afterward barred from doing business in the state.

This ought to be a warning to the concerns who have been doing business in direct violation of the above new law.

ROBBING THE PEOPLE

One great line of cleavage between the old stalwarts and the progressives is the water power proposition. The progressives stand firmly for state control of water powers and our senator and assemblyman were elected as progressives. We shall watch with great interest the votes and attitude of these men at Madison on this question and give their constituents the facts in the columns of this paper. When there is an effort made by a few to get control of a great natural resource which means robbing the people for ages, it is time we all join together for the good of the sons and daughters of this great state. It is a peculiar thing that the men who have had the undue advantages of the natural resources of the state, fight for undue advantages for all ages to come so their children may profit by it. This is "special interest."

Recover Stolen Tombstone.

A stolen tombstone was unearthed during excavations following a recent fire in a shop in Girvan (Ayr). The workmen dug out a tombstone in an excellent state of preservation, bearing the following inscription: "By Anthony Campbell, Saddler, in Memory of His Daughter, Jean, Died July 1st, 1826, Aged 15 Years and Six Months." It is believed that the stone was stolen from the old Girvan churchyard and converted into a hearthstone, a quite common occurrence in the early days of the nineteenth century.—London Mail.

Musical Criticism.

A western musical critic thus speaks of a prima donna: "She had, and we suppose still retains, a magnificent voice for a fog whistle. Its compass was perfectly surprising. She would shake the chandelier with a wild whoop that made every man instinctively feel for his scalp, and follow it up with a roar that would shame a bassoon."
